EMU RECTOR'S OFFICE CONGRATULATES TOURISM FACULTY FOR SUCCESSFUL ACHIEVEMENTS

Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Rector's Office organized an honoring ceremony to congratulate the Faculty of Tourism for its recent achievements. EMU Tourism Faculty is the only faculty from the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC) to have been ranked 38th in the field of Tourism and Hotel Management in the World University Academic Rankings 2021 Field Rankings List of ShanghaiRanking, a world university ranking institution based in China. Faculty of Tourism is also the first among the faculties included in the list both in the island of Cyprus and among Turkish universities.

The ceremony took place on Monday, 14 June 2021 at 11:00 am at the EMU Rector's Office Senate Meeting Hall. EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın, Vice Rector for Social and Cultural Affairs Assoc. Prof. Dr. Deniz İşçioglu, Dean of the Faculty of Tourism Prof. Dr. Hasan Kılıç, Vice Deans Prof. Dr. Ali Öztüren and Assist. Prof. Dr. Mehmet Güven Ardahan, faculty academic staff and research assistants who have published papers in the Social Sciences Citation Index (SSCI) attended the event.

"Our Goal Is Always To Get Better"

Delivering the opening speech of the ceremony, EMU Tourism Faculty Dean Prof. Dr. Hasan Kılıç stated that the success achieved in the ShanghaiRanking is very important both for the university and the faculty and stated that they are constantly on the rise. Underlining that this success has been achieved with the contributions of faculty academic staff, students and the university administration, Prof. Dr. Kılıç emphasized that their goal is to always achieve better. At the end of his speech, Prof. Dr. Kılıç thanked everyone who contributed. Speaking at the ceremony, EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın stated that EMU has made it the world lists by fulfilling international criteria and pointed out that it is always at the top of the rankings of Shanghai Ranking, Times Higher Education, University Ranking by Academic Performance and other similar ranking institutions, which is an indication of its success. Underlining the great success of EMU in terms of internationalization, Prof. Dr. Hocanın said, "It is very important to be able to bring about 80% of students from abroad and provide education on a small island. Scientific publications and studies in international standards are the factors that enable us to be at the top. It is a great success for our Faculty of Tourism to take its place worldwide. This happens with effort, diligence and knowledge. I would like to thank everyone who contributed".

After the speeches, EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın presented Dean of the Faculty of Tourism Prof. Dr. Hasan Kılıç a plaque of appreciation for the achievements of the faculty and gifts to the faculty members and research assistants who contributed to the faculty's success.

COOPERATION PROTOCOL SIGNED BETWEEN EMU AND VOCATIONAL TECHNICAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT

A cooperation protocol has been signed between Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) and TRNC Ministry of National Education and Culture, Vocational Technical Education Department. EMU Vice Rector for Academic Affairs Prof. Dr. Hasan Demirel and Director of the Vocational Technical Education Department Gülşen Hocanın signed the said protocol. The protocol aims to establish mutual cooperation between EMU and the Vocational High Schools in İskele and Famagusta regions, and to contribute to education by improving inter-institutional ties and communication.

Attended by EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın, the ceremony was held on Wednesday, 16 June 2021, at 12:00, at EMU Rector's Office. At the signing ceremony, EMU Vice Rector Assoc. Prof. Dr. Deniz İşçiöğlu, Principal of Famagusta Vocational High School Redif Güvensoy, Dr. Fazıl Küçük Industrial Vocational High School Principal Kağan Tokgöz and Famagusta Commercial High School Principal Savaş Moralı were present.

In his speech, Prof. Dr. Hocanın stated that they have come together for a very important cooperation and stated that EMU has always been a university that pays importance to vocational and technical education. Noting that EMU has associate and undergraduate programs providing vocational and technical education, Prof. Dr. Hocanın stated that EMU is always ready for support and that they are extremely happy to establish such a meaningful cooperation.

Director of Vocational and Technical Education Department Gülşen Hocanın stated that the importance given by EMU to vocational education is evident in every platform and stated that they are happy to be in a much more systematic cooperation with EMU. Emphasizing that they have undertaken many projects as the department, Hocanın emphasized that the need for the support for academic and technical issues will disappear with the cooperation protocol signed with EMU. Underlining that it is an honor to be in cooperation with EMU, Hocanın wished the protocol to be fruitful.

INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNISED PROGRAM FROM EMU COMPUTER AND INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGIES EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

The Computer and Instructional Technologies Teaching Program, launched under the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Education Faculty, Computer and Instructional Technologies Education Department, will be starting to admit students as of the 2021-2022

Academic Year Fall Semester. The undergraduate program is open to applications through the EMU Entrance and Scholarship system and offers a four-year study period in the English-medium. The program is the only Computer and Instructional Technologies Teaching Program in the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC) approved by the Council of Higher Education (YÖK). The program also has international recognition.

“Profession of the Future”

EMU Education Faculty, Computer and Instructional Technologies Education Department Chair Prof. Dr. Ersun İşçioğlu made a statement regarding the subject which reads as follows: “Our program will be carried out by faculty members who are experts in their fields. Our students will also be able to benefit from one Smart Classroom, three Computer Labs and all other facilities at our university. It is thought that our program will have an important place among the professions of the future due to the need all over the world. In addition, the importance of the field has become more evident in the current pandemic period, and this is a field of science that will be needed in the future.

“Many Job Opportunities”

Prof. Dr. İşçioğlu’s statement continues as follows: “Thanks to its dynamic structure, our program includes three areas: basic computer sciences, instructional technologies and educational sciences. Therefore, our graduates will have many different job opportunities after their graduation. In addition, our graduates have the opportunity to continue their education in our postgraduate and doctorate programs approved by the Council of Higher Education.”

As highlighted before, due to the modern program structure that includes different disciplines and the need for trained manpower in this field in recent years, our students have many different job opportunities after graduation. Some of these job opportunities are: Computer Instructor, Instructional Designer, Distance Education Developer, E-Learning / Distance Education Specialist, IT Center Management / Consultancy, Web and Multimedia Designer, Network Administrator / Architect, Software-Design Development Specialist, Computer Programmer, Technology Support Specialist, Database Administrator, and Computer Systems Designer.”

EMU TO LAUNCH THE FIRST-EVER STATISTICS AND COMPUTER SCIENCES PROGRAM IN TRNC

Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Statistics and Computer Sciences Program to be operated within the body of the Arts and Sciences Faculty, Mathematics Department will commence its academic life in 2021-2022 Academic Year Fall Semester. The program, which is prepared to accept new students through the EMU Entrance and Scholarship System is an English-medium program and covers a 4-year training period.

The Statistics and Computer Sciences Program to be offered by EMU will be administered for the first-time in the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC) with the approval of the Council of Higher Education (YÖK). The program will offer training with participation of expert academic staff members of Mathematics Department.

The Statistics and Computer Sciences program will set ground for students in both field of Statistics and Computer Sciences and, train graduates who have the ability to conduct advanced data analysis by bringing the two fields together. Students will receive training in topics such as statistical analysis, probability, mathematics and computer sciences. The graduates will play an important role in the formation of future projections and strategic decisions by analyzing the data in detail as a result of the learning outcomes they will gain from the program in any field of the business world.

Job Opportunities for Graduates of Statistics and Computer Sciences Program

EMU Arts and Sciences Faculty Dean Prof. Dr. Mehmet Ali Özarslan provided information on the latest program to be offered within the faculty and stated that the graduates of the Statistics and Computer Sciences Program are to easily find job opportunities in institutions such as governmental institutions, computer software companies, private research companies and especially in finance-related organizations and banks. Mentioning that graduates’ opportunity of being able to work in marketing, advertising, tourism, hospital management, human-related research and development sectors, Prof. Dr. Özarslan added another job opportunity which is working as a teacher if the graduates receive additional pedagogical formation training.

EMU is ready with Its Expert Team of Academics and Opportunities

Emphasizing that the program is to offer training with a team of experts in the field, Mathematics Department Head Prof. Dr. Nazım Mahmudov stated that the Statistics and Computer Sciences Program is planned to be operated by an academic staff consisting of 9 Professors, 2 Associate Professors and 10 Assistant Professors. Prof. Dr. Mahmudov continued his words by saying that 3 computers labs and a research lab, main library and department library are to be actively used during the training duration of the program.

EMU HOSTS 3rd INTERNATIONAL MEDICINE STUDENTS CONGRESS

Organized by the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Scientific Research Community, the 3rd Eastern Mediterranean International Medicine Students Congress (DAUTOK) was held online between 4 and 6 June 2021. World-renowned and expert scientists, medical students and physicians attended the congress, which was held under the theme of “Multidisciplinary Approaches to Cardiovascular Surgery in the Developing World” this year. The best presentations in the congress were awarded by the jury. Within the scope of the congress, while current issues in medicine and health were discussed, workshops that promote clinical skills and creativity were also held. The opening speeches of the congress were delivered by the Congress Chair Ayçin Buse İzzettin, EMU Scientific Research Community President Kağan Ali Kolsarıcı and EMU Dr. Fazıl Küçük Faculty of Medicine Dean Prof. Dr. Nahide Gökçora. In her speech, İzzettin expressed her gratitude to those who contributed to the realization of the congress, expressing that this year was a year during which we once again understood the value of healthcare professionals. In his speech, Kolsarıcı underlined that 450 students from 30 different countries attended the congress and underlined that this was a source of pride. Kolsarıcı stated that the studies on cardiovascular surgery are promising.

Prof. Dr. Gökçora emphasized that the topics discussed at the event are based on scientific data and solid foundations. Emphasizing the importance of innovative approaches in Cardiovascular Surgery, Prof. Dr. Gökçora wished the congress to be fruitful and thanked all the participants.

After the opening speeches, Prof. Dr. Cengiz Köksal from Bezmialem Vakıf University made a presentation on “Current and Future Trends in Mitral Valve Surgery”. Prof. Dr. Köksal gave advice on how to become a better doctor. In his speech, Prof. Dr. Köksal emphasized that mitral repair surgeries are the gold standard in surgery. In his speech, Prof. Dr. Öztekin Oto from 9 Eylül University talked about “Minimally Invasive Cardiac Surgery in Children and Adults” and emphasized that minimally invasive cardiac surgery is more advantageous than others in terms of less scarring and aesthetic appearance.

Istanbul Koç University Hospital Pediatric Cardiovascular Surgery Professor Ord. Prof. Dr. Afkendi Kalangos made a presentation on “Kalangos Foundation and Providing Cardiovascular Surgery Access to Children in the World”. Ord. prof. Dr. Kalangos emphasized the importance of humanitarian work in the field of cardiovascular surgery, recommending that humanitarian actions are part of medicine and that medical students work from the heart. Also at the congress, Specialist Dr. Murat Kınkoğlu, in his presentation on “Vegan Nutrition and Heart Diseases”, talked about the positive effect of vegan nutrition on cardiovascular diseases and invited everyone to become vegan. On the other hand, Dr. Toniya Singh said in her presentation titled “New Information and Advances in the Treatment of Heart Diseases in Women” that women have less obvious symptoms in heart attack and more research is needed on this subject.

In addition to the presentations delivered by the keynote speakers during the congress, presentations by field experts, medical student presentations and workshops were also held in the sessions. “Mindfulness” by Dr. Ayşe Atasoylu and Dr. Mariyam Sohail, “The Unknown Face of Vaccine Studies” by Prof. Dr. Kaya Süer, “Introduction to Acceptance Therapy” by Prof. Dr. Axel Würz, “The Importance of Sign Language in Health” and “Nanotechnology Developments in Cardiovascular Surgery” by Dr. Ülvan Özad and “Let’s Improve Our Posture” by Prof. Dr. Hakan Gunduz and Dr. Günay Yolcu were held. In addition to the scientific program, social workshops such as German, French, Chess Tournament and Kahoot Race were also successfully organized.
