The Rector of Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU), Prof. Dr. Hasan Kılıç, released a celebratory message on the occasion of the 100th Anniversary of 29 October Republic Day. Prof. Dr. Kılıç's message reads as follows:

“On the 100th Anniversary of the establishment of the Republic of Turkey, I extend my best wishes to all members of the Turkish nation. A century has passed since the founding of the Republic of Turkey, which was crowned by Great Leader Mustafa Kemal Atatürk and his comrades-in-arms, who ignited the flames of independence and established the Republic shoulder to shoulder with the Turkish people. The ideals of the Republic and Great Leader Mustafa Kemal Atatürk have not only had an impact on the Turkish world but have also influenced the entire world. Atatürk's revolutions elevated the Turkish people to the level of contemporary civilizations, and the Republic of Turkey, thanks to the solid foundations he laid, continues its path with great strength, a century later. The Turkish people, also inspired by the Republic of Turkey's struggle for independence, established the Turkish Republic of Northern

Cyprus on the island of Cyprus. In this regard, the Republic Day is celebrated on 29 October with great enthusiasm in Northern Cyprus, just as it is in the Republic of Turkey. As Cypriot Turks, we will continue to follow in the footsteps of Great Leader Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, advancing with the light of science. On this occasion, I extend my deepest gratitude to the founders of both the Republic of Turkey and the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus, including Great Leader Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, his comrades, our Leader Dr. Fazıl Küçük, and our Founding President Rauf Raif Denktaş, as well as to the martyrs who made it possible for us to live freely in these lands today. I also offer my heartfelt gratitude to all our war veterans and freedom fighters.”

29 OCTOBER STATEMENT FROM EMU-ATAUM

Eastern Mediterranean University Atatürk Research and Application Center (EMU-ATAUM) Chair Assist. Prof. Dr. Turgay Bülent Göktürk released a statement on the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the 29 October Republic Day. Assist. Prof. Dr. Göktürk's statement reads as follows:

“We are experiencing the pride and enthusiasm of celebrating the 100th anniversary of the Republic of Turkey, which was founded after the victory of our great nation, a one heart force uniting against its enemies under the leadership of the eternal Commander-in-Chief Mustafa Kemal Atatürk.

Atatürk succeeded in the National Liberation Struggle, which he started with the motto “either independence or death...”, together with his nation, despite all the difficulties, and after liberating the country from the imperialist occupation forces, he introduced the revolutions to bring the Turkish Nation to the level of contemporary civilizations, and he founded the Republic of Turkey, which he described as “My Greatest Work”. The Great Leader believed that the Republic, a form of state based on public sovereignty, was the most appropriate form of government for the character of the Turkish nation. The Republic, which he founded with this belief, has reached today on the foundations of a secular, democratic, social state and the rule of law. Atatürk, by harmoniously and efficiently bringing together all the elements that constitute a nation in an extremely modern and advanced manner, ensured the seamless integration of efforts in achieving national goals.

Great Leader Gazi Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, at the end of his great work Great Speech, in which he describes this process, said, “With what I have said here, how a great nation whose national existence has come to an end gained its independence; I tried to explain how the said nation established a national and modern state based on the latest principles of science and technology”. This result, in other words, is the Republic; He explained very clearly in his “Address to the Youth” how the Turkish youth will protect this trust. “Turkish Youth! Your first duty is to forever protect and defend the Turkish independence and the Turkish Republic...” On this meaningful day, he said, “My humble body will surely become soil one day but the Republic of Turkey will live forever”. We commemorate Gazi Mustafa Kemal Atatürk, his comrades-in-arms, and all our martyrs who died for the sake of making these lands a homeland, with our feelings of mercy, respect and gratitude, and we wish all Turkish nation a happy 29 October Republic Day. May the Republic continue sheeding light in its 100th year...”
