EMU FACULTY OF EDUCATION'S EDUCATION QUALITY ACCREDITED BY EPDAD

Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Faculty of Education, Fine Arts Education Department's Music Teaching and Special Education Department's Special Education Teaching Undergraduate Programs are accredited by the Association for Evaluation and Accreditation of Teacher Education Programs (EPDAD). On the other hand, the existing EPDAD accreditation of Educational Sciences Department, Guidance and Psychological Counseling Undergraduate Program's is renewed.

The Quality of the Programs Certified

EPDAD evaluated the said programs in terms of educational planning, application and evaluation; qualifications and number of academic personnel; qualifications of the students; cooperation between faculty and schools; sufficiency of the facilities, learning environments and sources; qualifications of the administration and quality assurance standards. Moreover, EMU Faculty of Education's English Language Teaching Program and Pre-School Teacher Education Program holds Agency for Quality Assurance through Accreditation of Study Programs (AQAS) accreditation.

"We Train Qualified Teachers with the Approach of Contemporary Administration"

EMU Education Faculty Dean Prof. Dr. Ahmet emphasized that the accreditation of the programs by the quality assurance systems is an indication that they meet the quality and assurance standards at a high level. In this respect, Prof. Dr. Pehlivan stated that the primary goals of the faculty are to ensure the operation and continuity of these assurance systems, to train qualified teachers with a modern management approach and to carry out qualified scientific studies. In addition, Prof. Dr. Ahmet Pehlivan pointed out that another mission of the EMU Faculty of Education is to lead the society by serving in many areas. Prof. Dr. Pehlivan also stated that EPDAD and AQAS accreditations are the most important factor supporting this mission.

EMU INTERIOR ARCHITECTURE DEPARTMENT BLAZES A TRAIL

Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Faculty of Architecture, Interior Architecture Department's preparations for the Council for Interior Design Accreditation (CIDA) has been completed. A statement made on the topic said: "Our department has always uncompromisingly worked its hardest for the best quality education. In this regard, CIDA accreditation preparations are now completed and achieved its goal". In 2014, the Interior Architecture Department's both Turkish and English programs were granted accreditations for 2 times by Germany-based AQAS (Agency for Quality Assurance) during the time when Prof. Dr. Uğur Ulaş Dağlı was the Head of the Department and with Assist. Prof. Dr. Münevver Özgür Özersay and Assoc. Prof. Dr. Afet Coşkun as the coordinators, respectively.

"I am Proud of My Department"

It was stated that the inspection was successfully carried out virtually by the visiting team of the America-based CIDA accreditation between 31 March and 11 April 2023. EMU Interior Architecture Department Head Assoc. Prof. Dr. Afet Coşkun made a statement and said: "I have to express that I am proud of EMU Interior Architecture Department, of which I am a part. We put forth a great effort with the participation of all our full-time faculty members, part-time lecturers, students, graduates and other stakeholders. Accreditation is the examination and inspection of the education given by an educational institution by another objective agency. Therefore, in addition to the certification of our education quality with accreditations, the international validity of quality education will increase thanks to the documents that will be given to our students with their diplomas".

Accreditation Committee Manages the Process

Active preparation process for CIDA accreditation has commenced following the successful completion of the AQAS accreditation for the second time. In January 2020 when Assoc. Prof. Dr. Zehra Öngül was the Head of the Department and Assist. Prof. Dr. Kamil Güley was the Vice Head, the Accreditation Committee was coordinated by Prof. Dr. Özlem Olgaç Türker and consisted of the following members; Assist. Prof. DR. Ahenk Yılğın Damacı, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Hacer Başarı Dindic, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Guita Farivarsadri and Prof. Dr. Kağan Günçe in "Report Committee" and, Assist. Prof. Dr. Seyit Ermiyagil in "Visual Communication and Archiving Committee". When Prof. Dr. Kağan Günçe left the committee, Prof. Dr. Nil Paşaoğulları Şahit joined the committee as co-coordinator. Research assistants Sıla Su Yanar, Mine Abraşoğlu, Sıla Akman, Tochukwu Nnaji Valentine, Soheil Soleimani, Berkay Ergür, A. Oytun Kayan, Şevin Emektar, Mohamad Akkad and Ogün Ertekin provided contributions in various periods of the process.

Positive Response from CIDA

The virtual site visit, where CIDA auditors evaluated

many principles under the CIDA Standards declared by CIDA, took place between 31 March and 11 April 2023. The evaluation process of the Department of Interior Architecture, English and Turkish Interior Architecture Undergraduate Programs, which are evaluated based on evidence such as the course documents showing the learning outcomes, will be concluded in October with the field visit team's transfer of their findings to CIDA and the evaluations of the CIDA Accreditation Board. A very positive response was received from the visitors who made the CIDA site visit at the last meeting. Giving information about the process, Prof. Dr. Özlem Olgaç Türker made the following statements; "For a program, external evaluations such as accreditation / quality control play a developing role. In fact, these processes, which are based on the self-control processes of institutions, objectively increase the quality of education of institutions with a process based on development; makes the quality permanent; it acts as a catalyst in making invisible quality visible."

EMU FIMAUM SIGNS A COLLABORATION PROTOCOL WITH THE KTSO

The Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Intellectual Property Rights Research and Application Center (FIMAUM) and the Turkish Cypriot Chamber of Industry (KTSO) signed a protocol with the aim of strengthening scientific Science Department at IMSUT, Prof. Dr. Ken J. Ishi.

During his visit, Prof. Dr. Tüzmen delivered a speech and answered questions on scientific research topics including "beta-Thalassemia" and "Applications of RNAi Gene Silencing System in Cancer Therapy". Prof. Dr.

Tüzmen also prepared the ground for the joint work he will conduct with Prof. Dr. Çoban, the Head of the Department of Malaria Immunology at the Institute in Tokyo. During the visit, Prof. Dr. Tüzmen observed the work of master's and doctoral students in the field of Molecular Biology and Genetics, and received information from Prof. Dr. Ishi about the exosome research conducted by his students using the latest technologies.

During the visit, Prof. Dr. Tüzmen also represented EMU Faculty of Dentistry and started to work with Prof. Dr. Çoban as co-advisors for master's and doctoral students in Tokyo. In his statement, Prof. Dr. Tüzmen emphasized that he was stretching out his arms to open the doors to Japan and that he will make another visit to Japan in the near future to carry out joint work with Japanese scientists.

TANYA KİLİTKAYALI INTRODUCES HER NEW BOOK AT EMU BOOK GATHERINGS 2023 EVENT

In scope of the “EMU Book Gatherings 2023”, an event taking place with the collaboration of the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Publishing House and the Social and Cultural Activities Directorate with the aim of increasing reading culture and creating awareness, the introduction and signing of the new book “Cyprus Cuisine: From Traditional to Modern” was held.

Authored by Tanya Kilitkayalı, academic staff member of EMU Faculty of Tourism who successfully represented the university and Cyprus cuisine at the MasterChef competition on TV8, the book was introduced on 29 April, 2023, at 12:00 PM at the Rüstem Bookstore in Nicosia. The design of the book was done by Assoc. Prof. Dr. Fırat Tüzükan, Chair of the Department of Visual Arts and Visual Communication Design at EMU Faculty of Communication. Present at the opening ceremony of the event were Vice-Rector for Social and Cultural Affairs Prof. Dr. Deniz İşçioğlu, Dean of the EMU Tourism Faculty Prof. Dr. Hasan Kılıç, Chair of the EMU Publishing House Executive Board Prof. Dr. Şebnem Hoşkara, and Executive Board Member Prof. Dr. Mehmet Metin Erginel.

At the event opening, Culture and Art Advisor of the Rüstem Bookstore Halil Duranay stated that the most important point to be stated about the book is that the protocol signed with EMU has been implemented. Duranay, who also emphasized that another important point is the mission of Rüstem Bookstore to pass on our cultural heritage to future generations, added that gastronomy is of great importance from the cultural heritage point of view and that the book will be very useful in this regard.

During her speech, EMU Publication Board Chair Prof. Dr. Şebnem Önal Hoşkara thanked those who have contributed to the preparation of the book and stated that EMU Publishing House has produced many successful publications in the last two years and will continue with the same momentum. Prof. Dr. Hoşkara also said she believes in the benefit of the continuation of the cooperation with Rüstem Kitabevi and expressed her hope that Tanya Kilitkayalı’s new book would be on the shelves soon.

EMU Tourism Faculty Dean Prof. Dr. Hasan Kılıç stated that he has closely been following Tanya Kilitkayalı’s career journey and always feels proud of her achievements. Prof. Dr. Kılıç pointed out that the book and the event are extremely important in terms of making Cyprus’ voice heard as the field of gastronomy continues to develop worldwide. He also thanked those who have contributed and added his belief that the joint efforts of Rüstem Kitabevi and EMU will enlighten future generations.

EMU Vice-Rector for Social and Cultural Affairs Prof. Dr. Deniz İşçioğlu said that she believes EMU will continue to grow and strengthen by continuing to engage in such collaborations and missions and thanked everyone involved in the project.

After the opening speeches, the promotion of the book “Cyprus Cuisine: From Traditional to Modern “ was held in a talk format by Tanya Kilitkayalı. The event ended with a cocktail prepared using some of the recipes found in the book and served after Tanya Kilitkayalı signed her book.
