

EMU APPEARS 1ST IN CYPRUS AND 3RD IN TURKEY IN THE WORLD'S YOUNG UNIVERSITY RANKINGS

Times Higher Education (THE), England-based publisher of the world's most widely referenced university rankings, announced the ranking of the best young universities in the world for 2023, which included universities that started education in the last 50 years.

EMU Continues Its Strong Rise

Despite the increase in the number of universities listed compared to last year, Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) increased its position from 153rd to the band of 101-150 this year, ranking 1st in the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC) and the island of Cyprus. 2 other universities from TRNC and 3 from South Cyprus achieved to appear in the list. Ranking as the 1st in TRNC as it was last year, EMU shared the 1st place with the University of Cyprus and the University of Nicosia across the island. On the other hand, Koç University appeared in the first place followed by Sabancı University in second place in Turkey. This year EMU managed to increase its place in the list, appearing in the 3rd place along with Çankaya University.

Total of 605 Universities Appeared in the List

A total of 605 universities were included in the list. Nanyang Technical University from Singapore appeared in the first place as the world leader. Last year, 539 universities were included in the list. The ranking allows especially younger institutions to be compared among themselves in terms of publication, citation, quality of education and internationalization. The THE Best Young University Ranking 2023, which

“EMU’s Rise in World Rankings is a Well-Deserved Achievement”

Releasing a statement on the topic, EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocann noted that EMU’s rise from the 153rd rank to the 101-150 band is a well-deserved success in the said ranking published by the international independent university ranking institution. Prof. Dr. Hocann also pointed out that its progress in the world rankings is a reflection of the right steps taken. Congratulating all EMU staff who contributed to the success of EMU, Prof. Dr. Hocann also underlined that EMU will continue to work on quality education, research and community service with an increasing graph, being aware of its responsibility to be among the best universities in the world.

FAREWELL CEREMONY HELD FOR DEAN OF DR. FAZIL KÜÇÜK FACULTY OF MEDICINE PROF. DR. NAHİDE GÖKÇORA

A farewell ceremony has been organized at Dr. Fazıl Küçük Faculty of Medicine on Friday, 7 July, 2023, at 10:00 a.m. for Prof. Dr. Nahide Gökçora, who is retiring as the Dean of the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Dr. Fazıl Küçük Faculty of Medicine.

The emotional ceremony was attended by EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın, Vice Rector Prof. Dr. Serhan Şenşoy, Faculty Deans, Directors, academic and administrative staff, as well as students. The ceremony began with a video presentation of memories of Prof. Dr. Gökçora, who took on the role of the founding dean in the establishment of the Faculty in 2012 and made significant contributions to its growth and development.

In his speech at the ceremony, Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın emphasized the significant contributions of Prof. Dr. Gökçora in the establishment of the Faculty of Medicine and the implementation of the international joint medical program with Marmara University. Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın highlighted their excellent collaboration throughout their work and emphasized that there was no door that Prof. Dr. Gökçora couldn't open. Prof. Dr. Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın also added that Prof. Dr. Gökçora worked diligently and with determination, stating that she was a member of the EMU family and would always remain so. Prof. Dr. Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın expressed gratitude to Prof. Dr. Gökçora for her contributions and wished her a healthy, peaceful, and happy retirement.

Subsequently, the ceremony continued with the reading of messages sent by Prof. Dr. Ümit Şehirli, Dean of Marmara University Faculty of Medicine, Prof. Dr. Hasan Raci Yananlı, Vice Dean of Marmara University Faculty of Medicine, Dr. Düriye Deren Oygur, Undersecretary of the Ministry of Health at the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC), colleagues, alumni, and students who shared memories with Prof. Dr. Gökçora.

In her closing speech, Prof. Dr. Gökçora expressed her infinite gratitude to everyone she had walked alongside since the establishment of the Faculty of Medicine, stating that people can be productive where they are happy. She expressed her pride in having the opportunity to establish a Faculty of Medicine in her homeland and to contribute to the meaningful work that benefits people. Prof. Dr. Gökçora conveyed her thanks to all those who contributed to the success of EMU Dr. Fazıl Küçük Faculty of Medicine. She included the following statements in her speech: "I am filled with mixed emotions. I know that we will not part ways. I believe that farewells nurture and inspire true love. This excitement is mixed with the joy of starting a new life. I am at peace because I have done many good things. As long as a person is valued and happy, she or he continues to thrive and bloom. That's why I have continued to bloom here. It has been a wonderful and unique journey with all of you. I believe that I will experience beautiful things in my new life. I will carry you all in my heart. Each and every one of you is precious to me. I am very happy that we have taken this journey together. Goodbye."

Following Prof. Dr. Gökçora's speech, Prof. Dr. Aykut Hocanın presented her with a plaque of appreciation and a bouquet of flowers in recognition of her contributions.

EMU FLEPS CONTINUES WITH ITS INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATIONS

Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Foreign Languages and English Preparatory School (FLEPS) continues its longstanding collaborations with Norwich Institute for Language Education (NILE), a prestigious language education institute in the United Kingdom. As part of these collaborations, Thom Kiddle, the Director of NILE and the Chair of Equals, provided a four-day course titled “Mediation in Language Teaching” to the team of EMU FLEPS who hold different positions. The course included detailed information sharing on “CEFR Mediation Activities and Strategies” and covered practical approaches to teaching, curriculum, and assessment practices.

“My Third Visit to EMU”

Expressing their gratitude to Macmillan Education Turkey and the distributor Deniz Plaza in the organization of the training, the EMU FLS Administration stated that they are looking forward to collaborating again in the upcoming academic year. Thom Kiddle, in his comments on the subject, said, “It was a great opportunity to work on one of the most important contemporary areas of language education with the highly motivated and dedicated professional team at EMU. I was delighted to be warmly welcomed once again on my third visit to EMU.”

“It Was a Great Privilege”

Assist. Prof. Dr. Ramadan Eyyam, the Director of EMU FLEPSS, made statements regarding their collaboration with NILE, saying, “To be given such an important opportunity was an incredible honor and a great privilege. Hosting the distinguished Director of NILE and the Chair of Equals, Thom Kiddle, for the third time at EMU FLEPS and participating in a prestigious course on ‘CEFR Mediation Activities and Strategies,’ which is his area of expertise, is an opportunity that not everyone can experience. This course will play an effective role in further enhancing our curriculum and helping us achieve excellence and perfection.

INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATIONS OF THE REPUBLIC OF CONGO HELD AT EMU

The Congo Student Society, operating under the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) International Student Activity and Student Societies Unit celebrated the 63rd Independence Day of the Republic of Congo with various activities. Present at the Independence Day events held at the EMU Activity Center, was EMU Vice Rector for Social and Cultural Affairs Prof. Dr. Deniz İşçiöğlü. The event, also attended by Congolese students studying in different regions of the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC), began with various cultural food and beverage stands showcasing the rich culinary heritage of Congo.

Fascinating documentaries shedding light on the historical significance of Congo’s independence were screened during the event. Various theater performances and music shows were also held. The Congolese youth who attended the event celebrated their country’s independence and had an enjoyable time.

GASTRODAU ORGANIZES BAKED GOODS WORKSHOP

Gastronomy club GastroDAÜ operating under the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Social and Cultural Activities Directorate, Student Clubs Unit, organized a Baked Goods Workshop. People showed great interest in the event that took place at the EMU Faculty of Tourism. Within the scope of the workshop led by the EMU Faculty of Tourism academic staff member Chef Oğuz Babacan, EMU students learnt how to make “Banana Bread” and “Ramadan Pita” which reflects the meaning of Ramadan. The event aimed to teach the students the technical knowledge and skills used in baked goods.

Participants stated that the event was great fun and added that working on baked goods is not that easy. Moreover, they pointed out that it was valuable for them to learn how much of which material they should use and how they could prepare the products with the useful information they received from Chef Babacan. Lastly, the participant noted that they will use the technics they learnt in the workshop when they baked goods at home for their loved ones.

BEACH CLEANING ACTIVITY FROM EMU

Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Faculty of Health Sciences, Department of Nutrition and Dietetics, Faculty of Arts and Sciences, Department of Biological Sciences, EMU Underwater Research and Imaging Center (SAGAM), and SPOT Marine Life carried out a collaborative beach cleaning activity. As part of the Social Responsibility Activity plan of the EMU Department of Nutrition and Dietetics, the first event of the “Sustainable Living and Nutrition” activities was organized on the World Environment Day at Iskele Long Beach. The beach cleaning activity, which saw the active participation of academic and administrative staff as well as students, covered approximately 2 kilometers of coastline.
