Prof. Dr. Ali Öztüren were also present during the said visit. Stating his contentment on being at EMU, Prof. Dr. Çobanoğlu congratulated Prof. Dr. Kılıç on his recent appointment as the Rector of EMU and wish Prof. Dr. Kılıç success in his endeavors. On the other hand, Prof. Dr. Kılıç said that they are pleased to have Prof. Dr. Çobanoğlu at EMU and emphasized his belief that two institutions would make good collaborations. Underlining that EMU's new vision and mission work attach great importance to international expansions, Prof. Dr. Kılıç stated that establishing a cooperation bond with the University of South Florida will have positive contributions to both institutions.

Potential collaborations between the two universities were discussed during the visit. Moreover, it was reported that an agreement was reached to establish and enhance joint undergraduate and graduate programs in the fields of Tourism and Business.

EMU APPEARS IN TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION'S SUBJECT RANKINGS AS THE ONLY UNIVERSITY FROM THE TRNC IN THE FIELD OF BUSINESS AND ECONOMICS

The UK-based Times Higher Education (THE), the publisher of widely referenced university rankings worldwide, has released the ranking of the world's best universities based on subjects. According to the 2024 subject rankings, Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) has demonstrated the success of being the sole university listed from the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus (TRNC) in the field of Business and Economics. In the said rankings, EMU has been evaluated in Accounting and Finance, Business Administration, and Economics and Econometrics within the Business and Economics category.

EMU Ranks Second Across Türkiye and Cyprus Island

According to the said rankings, EMU has appeared within the 251-300 band in Business and Economics, sharing the same rank with Sabancı University after Koç University in Turkey. Following EMU, Bilkent University and Middle East Technical University share the third position in the 301-400 band. Among the universities ranked across Cyprus island, EMU ranked second after the University of Nicosia. Dean of the EMU Faculty of Business and Economics, Prof. Dr. Mustafa Besim, expressed his pride on behalf of everyone for EMU's prominent position among world universities, indicating that the achievement underscores the university's success on the international stage. Prof. Dr. Besim extended his gratitude to all members of staff who contributed to this success. In a statement on the subject, EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Hasan Kılıç emphasized that EMU, as a state university, has consistently proven its quality in various global rankings, expressing their ongoing commitment to being among the world's best in such rankings. Prof. Dr. Kılıç conveyed his gratitude and appreciation to all EMU staff who contributed to the success, wishing for the continuation of such achievements.

CYPRUS POLICY CENTER ORGANIZED A SEMINAR ON TYPES OF VIOLENT CONFLICT AND SOLUTION CHALLENGES

The Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Cyprus Policy Center (CPC), in collaboration with the EMU Faculty of Business and Economics, Department of Political Science and International Relations, held a seminar on “Types of Violent Conflicts and Solution Challenges: Insights from Previous Conflicts in Ukraine and Gaza.”

The opening remarks for the seminar were delivered by Prof. Dr. Ahmet Sözen, Head of the EMU Department of Political Science and International Relations, and the CPC. The keynote speaker was Graham Day, who served as an officer in the British and Canadian navies, the United Nations, and various international agencies involved in peacebuilding. Day began his presentation by explaining the differences between “conquest warfare” and “intercommunal warfare.” He stated that conquest warfare occurs when an imperial nation-state attacks another nation-state to acquire territory, citing Russia’s invasion of Ukraine as an example. Day then highlighted that intercommunal warfare arises when a non-state actor attacks a nation-state. He used the example of Hamas, a non-state actor, initiating the Gaza war by attacking Israel. Emphasizing that the real issue in all conflicts is what happens after the conflict ends, Day stressed the importance of nations ensuring their security before engaging in economic activities within the country. At the end of the interactive seminar, Graham provided examples of how countries can secure their nations after war.

Day, under the moderation of Prof. Dr. Ahmet Sözen, responded to questions from students and

CERTIFICATE CEREMONY HELD AT FACULTY OF TOURISM

Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU), Faculty of Tourism organized a certificate ceremony for Department of Tourism and Hospitality Management and, Department of Recreation students who successfully completed their social responsibility projects in 2023 – 2024 Academic Year Fall Semester. Prof. Dr. Mine Haktanır, Chair of the EMU Community Involvement Center Assist. Prof. Dr. Nazenin Ruso and faculty members attended the event held at the Tower Barista Café.

Stating that, such events not only serve the community but also support emotional, social, cultural, and moral development of the community, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Haktanır highlighted that these activities also make a positive contribution to academic studies. Assoc. Prof. Dr. Haktanır expressed his gratitude to all students for their contributions.

Delivering a speech at the event, EMU Community Involvement Center’s Chair Assist. Prof. Dr. Nazenin Ruso expressed that their goal in carrying out social responsibility projects is to gravitate towards communal living. In other words, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Ruso emphasized that individuals should not only act in line with their own interests but also consider the needs of the society they are part of. Assoc. Prof. Dr. Ruso highlighted that such activities strengthen the connection between students, the community, and the university and, she extended her gratitude to all the students. Following the certificate ceremony, a talk was held where students from different countries such as Iran, Morocco, Kazakhstan, Yemen, Africa and Turkey who participated in the projects stated that each stage of the process was very productive and, that the activities enabled them to discover their own skills.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB HOLDS A LUMINANCE COMPOSITIONS EXHIBITION

Photography Club operating under the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Social and Cultural Activities Directorate held a group photography exhibition titled “Luminance Compositions”. EMU Vice Rector for Student Affairs Prof. Dr. Sonuç Zorlu, Art Coordinator Zehra Şonya, Student Clubs Unit Supervisor Çiğdem Duvarcı, EMU personnel, club members and students visited the exhibition held at the entrance area of the Central Lecture Halls Building.

Delivering a speech during the opening ceremony, Vice Rector Prof. Dr. Zorlu stated that the aim of the event is to contribute to the social, cultural, sports, and artistic development of EMU students. Noting that various beautiful events have been organized in different fields in this context. Prof. Dr. Zorlu expressed her gratitude to everyone who contributed to the formation of the exhibition, wishing them success in their future endeavors.

In the event, Club Instructor Haluk Erdem Singin explained that painting techniques with light were used in the Luminance Compositions exhibition. Congratulating the members of the club for the artworks that they created, Singin stated that their work will collectively continue in the future.

On the other hand, the Chair of the Club Berkay İncedal expressed the club’s excitement on creating a second exhibition with Club Instructor Singin. Chair İncedal thanked all the clubs and, especially the Rector’s Office, Directorate and Club Instructor Singin for their contributions to the process. İncedal noted that they will start preparations for their next exhibition to be held in the upcoming semester.

Following the speeches, certificates of participation and appreciation were presented to contributors of the event by Vice Rector Prof. Dr. Zorlu.

Luminance Compositions were created through the light painting technique by the members of the Photography Club under the guidance of the club instructor Haluk Erdem Singin. The artworks, aiming to create a unique perspective and narrative away from conventional patterns, were carefully organized by the students and photographed in accordance with the instructor’s guidance. Photography sessions received contributions from EMU Mountaineering and Nature Sports Club, Cinema Club, American Football Team (EMU Crows), and Dance Group who assumed roles as photo models. While the majority of the organization during the exhibition preparation process was undertaken by the club’s executive team, the club management also actively contributed to the creation of artworks during this period.
